SPEND LABOR DAY WEEKEND

At the Lake Elsinore State Park and Marina

Officials of the Lake Elsinore State Park Marina announced another first in Elsinore Valley for the Labor Day weekend, by presenting a Tahitian and Polynesian stage show.

The entertainment will begin on September 5, at 8 p.m. and will continue to the "Cinderella" hour. The highlight of the evening will be a Polynesian and Tahitian luau, singers, dancers and a Polynesian knife dance.

When 9 p.m. rolls by, everyone will be looking skyward, for the Lake Elsinore Valley Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a skydiving exhibition, under the supervision of Cy Perkins, owner-operator of Skylark Aviation. These daring young men will ride their white chutes down to earth between the Lake Elsinore State Park Marina and the Elsinore West Marina and hope to Anti Becki, comedian dancer and Hawaiian Abe. These two will entertain you on the Labor Day weekend.

The above photo shows the paved launching facilities at the Lake Elsinore State Park Marina at Elsinore. The ramp is capable of launching 1000 boats per day. Beginning Saturday and Sunday, September 5 and 6, the boaters will be able to enjoy not only a day of boating on beautiful, fresh-water Lake Elsinore, but also an evening of entertainment, and a luau, which will be served from 7 to 10 p.m. Bring the entire family to the vacation spot of the Southland . . . Lake Elsinore.

land on the property owned by Ed Tomlin.

Then back to the stage show.

On Sunday, these dare-devils will again display their talent, beginning at 2:30 in the afternoon and on Sunday evening the Watkins Company has plans for entertainment to please the entire family. Eli Headly, a well-known Tahitian and Polynesian decorator will decorate the entire State Park Marina for the affair. He is known for his work at Disneyland and the Polynesian-Tahitian Room at the Miramar Hotel in Santa Monica.

On stage will be Hawaiian Abe and His Royal Polynesians, and they will feature various types of dances. Kalani will do a Samoan Knife Dance, Polynesian Slap Dance, Samoan Fire Dance and a Polynesian Fire Walk Dance. Music will be furnished by The Menehunes (the Polynesian Midgets).

Hawaiian Abe and his group have appeared on television in such shows as "Hawaiian Eye," "Adventures in Paradise" and are currently appearing in "McHales Navy."

The Watkins Develop-

Company has gone to great time and expense to make the Labor Day weekend a memorable success. This is the weekend that is the kickoff to the fall boating season, so be you near or far, bring your boat to Elsinore.

Accommodations for trailers and boats are available. Restaurants and markets will be open to serve your every need. The people of Elsinore and Elsinore Valley welcome one and all and they want you to come back, so drive carefully, so you can be here to be welcomed. ■

Back to the Slot-Machines

All Las Vegas, silver-dollar slot machine fans can sleep in peace once more for the House-Senate conference committee agreed recently to the minting of 45 million new silver dollars.

Minting of the new dollars was approved by the Senate but rejected by the House. However, House members of the conference committee agreed to drop their objections.

When the minting commences, it will be the first time that silver dollars have been minted since 1935 and Treasury stocks of all but a few rare dollars have been depleted by coin collectors and speculators.

Well, another battle won by the West.

See you in Vegas. ■

Groundbreaking ceremony for Murrieta Church

This story begins on April 10, 1963 at 4:15 in the morning, when the 7-year old Murrieta Methodist Church on Washington Avenue caught fire and burned to the ground as the townspeople stood helplessly by. The Murrieta Volunteer Fire Department and the residents made a grand attempt to put out the fire, but to no avail.

When the smoke cleared, all that was left were ashes, remains of the nails that held the church together, the bell and pile after pile of debris. Gone were the three pianos, an organ and all of the church records.

But this catastrophe did not stop the Murrieta people, for they immediately formed a building committee and began plans for the new Murrieta Methodist Church. The location chosen for this church was on Adams Street and plans for raising money began.

Contributions from individuals were sent to the building committee, the Volunteer Firemen donated—and donated, the nails from the old church were sold for $1 each, the Willis Thompsons purchased the old bell and many community endeavors to raise money have taken place this past year to add to the building fund.

So on Sunday, August 23, when the groundbreaking ceremonies took place, the people who were in attendance were seeing more than the foundation for a new church, they saw a "community endeavor" becoming a reality. Many of them put in a lot of time for this new church, as well as donating money.

Rev. Newburn, with shovel, stated that Verna Rowley of Fallbrook will be the contractor. The new church will cost approximately $33,000.

The church should be ready for Christmas services. ■

Another School Bond election

On September 15, the voters of Elsinore will go to the polls to vote on the newly proposed school bond issue.

Bonds to be voted on will be for an issue of $1,500,000 and state aid in a like amount.

Bonds and state aid measures totaling $4.5 million failed to carry in a June 2 election.

High school trustees have said that the smaller amount to be asked for on September 15 will care for the present enrollment and an expected increase up to 650 students.

But the difference in the two amounts, this election and the last, will show up in the future when additions to the school will be necessary, for the amount on hand for additions will not be large enough, according to the trustees.

If the bonds pass there will be classrooms for English, math, language, bookkeeping, shorthand, office practice, social studies, agriculture and library practice, typing, life science and biology, physics and chemistry, home economics, arts and crafts, music, band and vocal, metal shop and a few more. A gymnasium with showers and lockers will also be built.

Remember voters, the cost of these elections is expensive, and because a school is necessary, it will come up for vote over and over and the cost of building a school will rise higher and higher.

Go to the polls on September 15 and vote. ■

Have come and gone

The annual celebration of Anza Trail Days is here and gone, but not to be forgotten for the affair this year was even bigger and better than those of other years.

Each year for the past four years this community, located in the San Jacinto mountains, has had one of the most unique parades, barbecues and community sings ever seen in this area.

The reason for the celebration is that nearly 200 years ago, in the year 1774, Juan Bautista De Anza and his band of explorers, came over the desert sands and bad lands from Sonora, Mexico into the rich and beautiful valley lying 4000 feet high among the mountains. The celebration commemorates the hardships the group had in locating this area.

The story of the trek of this hardy Spanish conquistador, for whom the community of Anza is named, is told in Tom Hudson's book, "Three Paths Along a River."

Friday evening was the beginning of the three-day festivities, with a mammoth bonfire at sunset on Village Square and a community sing and amateur entertainment.

The following day at about 11 a.m. the annual parade, led by the Cahuilla Indians began. Grand Marshal was Lupe Lugo on his Palomino. This gentleman is a descendant of one of the oldest families of Anza.

Also in the parade were

JEWELRY MADE TO ORDER

While you wait—at the Holiday Ranch

The dirt roads and backwoods trails in the area lead to the most unusual places. The secret is to take time to turn onto these roads and then just settle for what comes along. This is living. This is always a story for La Laguna Revue.

For instance, if you were going to the Holiday Ranch you would take Highway 71, better known as the Elsinore-Corona Road, and you would turn at the signs that read "Holiday Ranch — De Palma's Restaurant," then slowly (rough road) cruise down the dirt road until on the left you see western styled, old-time buildings. Park the car and walk through the gates.

To the right is a large shaded pond, which attracts many fishermen, for it is filled to the brim with large catfish that are suckers for bait.

Sit down on the benches provided and cool off a bit and enjoy the scenery, then take a good look around. There's a fountain, with running water; a piece of land sectioned off and in the center are ancient bedsteads, two very old buildings and many other items of interest.

The gift shop building, you are now in front of was originally in the town of Elsinore, in fact one of the first three buildings ever built in that town in 1876 and it was moved in the 50's to the ranch. It still has the long windows and the wooden floors.

While restoring the integiven to customers as souvenirs.

Sits the house the Franciscos built

High on a windy hill sits Crestour, the home of Robi and Jim Francisco. This lovely home, which is still under construction, was built high on a mountain side off Bundy Canyon Road in Menifee Valley and as you stand on the terrace and look about you the beauty of nature takes hold, for the air seems cleaner, the sky bluer and the trees greener from this vantage point.

Never, have I been so taken with a home or its location. Never before have I seen Sun City, Menifee Valley, a full view of the Mt. San Jacinto, Mt. San Gorgonio and the tops of the San Bernardino mountains, just by turning my head a little. Never have I felt so alive, nor more like living, until I stood on this hill and felt the cool afternoon breeze whip around me, as the soft strain from the organ rang through the area and the melodic tones of "Indian Love Call" and "Harbor Lights" and finally "Memories" reached my ears.

It was Sunday, and we (Rubie and myself) were doing a routine assignment on a house, the interior, exterior and usual shots for the magazine. The job can take anywhere from one to two hours, but not this time, for we arrived after lunch and the sun was already leaving its perch to bed down for the night when we left this house extraordinary.

The house represents the current trend of con-

Although the house is not yet complete, it still is impressive. The area to the left of photo will house the billiard room. Sliding glass doors are from the master bedroom.

Inside the house we found Jim Francisco at the organ. The door to the left of photo leads outside and the other one to master bedroom. Jim plays the organ as a pastime, but knows almost any song you can name.

struction for country living, where people desire view, surrounding space and privacy in the arrangement of rooms. It is 143 feet in length and has 3,750 square feet of living area, comprised of eleven rooms.

As you enter the front door, there is a foyer leading to a hall with doors to one side, but a right hand turn takes you into the gold-carpeted living room with its sapphire and white furnishings. One corner of this room houses a huge organ, which Jim Francisco plays like a professional. Directly across the room is a free-standing, five-sided fireplace. Walk through the archway and you are in the dining room with windows that cover one complete wall and a goodly portion of the second.

From the dining area you can see into one of the most compact kitchens ever. It has every necessary item for modern living, complete with garbage disposal unit, built in oven and range. This was made strictly for cooking, without one step wasted.

The master bedroom is the door directly next to the front door and it is carpeted in beige and the furnishings are limed ash. The master bath, off this room has one wall completely mirrored.

Down the hall a short distance is bedroom number two, and the next door leads to the "conversation room." In here one finds a gun case, fishing tackle and "close t inspection" found clothing and gear strictly for sports wear and use.

Off the kitchen is a large utility room with washer, dryer and freezer on one wall and storage cabinets for use in Robi's real estate business on the other.

From this room we went into the side door of Robi's new office, R & R Real Estate, owned and operated by Robi. This office has its own bath and an air conditioning system is underway.

Out another side door, down two steps and we were in Jim's hobby workshop, which any man would envy, for it has one wall completely filled with small tools, all neatly hung on a peg board and along the other wall are yard tools. In the center of the room was a boat that Jim is repairing the motor of in his spare "hobby" time.

The next room is a collection room and library. One wall, about 20 feet or more in length, has bookshelves from floor to ceiling.

Jim's hobby room would be the envy of any man and according to him he has a long way to go before it is finished. Not in the photo but in the room is a speaker to the dogs' pen, and when they get a little noisy, Jim calms them down the easy way.

Jim and his ability on the organ kept us spellbound, but when we walked by we noticed he played the lower notes in his stocking feet. Say, how 'bout that?

MANY HANDS HELP

The Friendly Hands project

Two months ago, in the July issue of La Laguna Revue appeared a story of how many friendly hands are helping the rural community of Ejido Uropan in Baja, California in Mexico by helping the people to help themselves.

In order to gain first-hand information, this reporter visited the colony in July, with Mr. and Mrs. Candelaria Sanchez and Mrs. Zeta Demar, the people who are the ministering angels to these people and to many in Rosarita (a village just north of the Uropan colony.)

We told of the poignant plea of Mrs. Demar for a tractor in the July story. Interested people responded and many friendly hands made possible a Farmall tractor in good running condition with a plow, harrow, rake and other necessary equipment for the use of Senor Gregorio Gonzales, the leader of the colony. He will use it to work the land of all the little farms.

Our first stop on the trip was in Rosarita, where boxes of clothing, bedding and kitchen utensils were left. It was discovered that the need for children's clothing in this small community was dire.

Leaving Rosarita, we drove on toward the Uropan Colony, enjoying the cool ocean breeze. As we left the highway to take the side road to the colony, we overtook Senor Aurelio Mora, who was carrying a huge box of groceries on his head. He was coming from the bus line, a mile and a half away. We took him to his home and there visited with his family. Their greatest concern is for the education of the children and themselves.

Proceeding to the colony, we found ourselves in a veritable oasis with little green squares of trees, grapevines, corn and hay crops. The Gonzales family was waiting for us and we joined them for a hot lunch of tortillas that Mrs. Gonzales had baked on the top of the stove.

Mr. Gonzales proudly showed us a letter he had received from the governor of the state in which the governor paid generous tribute to the leadership of Mr. Gonzales in improving the living conditions in the colony.

We then toured the area and saw the six-bath house units made of cement that we wrote about in the first article. Then a small gas engine run by butane which was used to pump water for irrigation purposes.

Next, a primitive version of a laundromat—and this warrants a full description.

It was a rectangular cement structure with places for at least sixteen women to wash at a time. Each individual section is a rectangle about the size and shape of a washboard . . .

Mr. and Mrs. Gregorio Gonzales stand in front of the cement curbed well that is located where the Community Center is to be built. In the next photo is Senor Orelia Mora carrying his groceries from the bus line to his ranch.

Mrs. Elvira de Cruz demonstrates the washing facility at the Colony. In the photo at the right are three more of the "cement washboards." With Mrs. de Cruz are her two sons.

this particular item many of you readers are familiar with I am certain . . . and the cement is corrugate to simulate a washboard and the clothes are rubbed back and forth and then rinsed in a square container of clear water. Hot, soft water from the mountain is piped into the structure and the waste water carried away.

During our visit to the "laundromat" we met Senora Elvira R. de Cruz, the wife of a professor of nearby school. She and her husband with assume leadership of the literacy phase of the program which will be set up soon.

The Elsinore Woman's Club, through the Literacy Council, will assist in this program, by furnishing the Laubach Spanish Charts and Primers. Mrs. Lupe Sanchez will work with the group in setting up the school, securing volunteer teachers and their training.

Here is a "people-to-people" project where there is a definite sharing of material items, of good will and just plain neighborliness. It is a concrete answer to the often asked question "What can I do?" to promote international understanding, for there is a place for many friendly hands in meeting the many needs.

The next big step will be with a cement curbed well—with bucket and pulley. The completion of that center will be another chapter in the story of El Proyecto Las Manos Amistosas.

In the meantime, Mrs. Demar is procuring a visa for Raquel Gonzales to come to Elsinore, where she will assist Mrs. Demar in her rest home and will continue her education at the Literacy Center.

Mrs. Sanchez, the Franklin Topes and Hazel Gregory are still busy gathering clothing and other useful articles together for these needy, ready-to-work and learn people.

AINSWORTH-PERKINS WEDDING SOLEMNIZED

Elsinore's First Baptist Church was the scene Tuesday, August 11 of the wedding of Kathleen Anne Ainsworth and Larry Lee Perkins.

Rev. Arthur Smith of Las Vegas, uncle of the bridegroom performed the eight o'clock ceremony before 100 guests. The bride's brother-in-law, David Barker of Culver City gave her in marriage.

The bride's gown was floor length, pale pink chiffon overlaid with white chiffon trimmed with lace scallops. Her short veil was worn over a pink chiffon headpiece fashioned like a rose. She carried a bouquet of baby pink roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Mrs. Betty Lou Rolich of Anaheim, sister of the groom, was the bride's honor attendant. She wore a floor length dress, empire styled, in azelea color and carried pink and white carnations. Gaylia B. Smith of Culver City was bridesmaid.

Jerry Perkins of Westminister, cousin of the groom, was best man and Norman Calhoun of Canoga Park and Steven Eastman of Anaheim served as ushers.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Medeiros of San Lorenzo and parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Forrest G. (Cy) Perkins of Elsinore.

A reception for the newlyweds was held in the church social hall. Lucile Goulart and her daughter, Kathleen presided at the refreshment table with Rachel Sage and daughter, Susan at the gift table.

Marvin Funk to head Perris Chamber of Commerce

Marvin Funk, President

Members of the board of directors of the Perris Valley Chamber of Commerce elected Marvin Funk to serve as president during the 1964-65 term of office.

Marvin is assistant manager at the Perris branch of Security First National Bank. He has been an active member of the chamber board and has worked actively with many other local organizations.

Serving with Marvin in the capacity of vice president will be Frank Pettit, owner operator of Valley Heating and Air Conditioning and Valley Appliance and TV, both in Sun City and Perris. Frank is a Rotarian and last year decorated the business district for the holidays, and worked with Clarence Muse on "Christmas Hollow" that won the Perris Valley Garden Club trophy.

Re-elected as secretary-treasurer was Russ Stewart and serving on the executive board will be John Brown and Cecil Babcock.

During the 1963-64 term of office, John Harrison, now the past president, had chalked up a number of accomplishments. Some were:

Charles Motte, industrial committee chairman, John Coudures, Jr., Zoning Committee and Frank Renfro realtor, worked with Santa Fe's Industrial Department and the Board of Trade in locating the Mehl Manufacturing Co. of Cincinnati, Ohio, at Quail Realty is the name of the new realty company recently opened in the town of Perris at 213 D Street.

Jerome V. Murphy is the broker and he has been a property owner in the Quail Valley area for some time. His plans for the future include him moving into the Perris area.

Mr. Murphy is better acquainted with the real estate business than most people as his father was a broker in the Riverside area in 1905.

His hobbies are riding, hunting, fishing and dancing and he is a member of the Elks Lodge.

Sales manager of the office is George Toombs and his lovely wife, Mary, holds the title of office manager.

Fish fry to aid building fund

The proprietors of the Valley Inn, Eleanor and Bob Serich are throwing open the doors of their business on Friday, September 4, from noon until 9:30 p.m. for a fish fry.

All the proceeds for the day will be donated to the building fund for the new grammar school to be built by St. Frances of Rome Catholic Church.

At the bar, LeRoy will donate one-half of his day's proceeds to the same cause. The church now has the property on the north side of the church to Lakeshore Drive and it is planned that this may be the new grammar school site.

The address to remember on Friday, September 4, is 16705 Grand Avenue in Elsinore. Official opening date for the fund campaign is September 1. ■ largest one-day pour for a single-family residence they had ever made.

The house is situated on solid granite and in order to keep a continuous roof line, some of the rooms have a step-down.

The Franciscos purchased the property on April 7, talked over the floor plan, got in touch with Bob Harper, explained their ideas to him. He in turn put it on paper, and less than four months later they were moved in. Robi did the interior designing.

The Franciscos are both amazing people. Both have worked on government projects, in fact, there is more one cannot say about their work, than one can say.

Jim is all smiles in this picture and who can blame him? A few years ago, he was ill and had to spend a number of months quietly, so during that time he built the gun case he stands next to. This is the room called the "conversation room" but if I were to name it I would have said the "sport room."

gineer of construction, design, trial trips and naval architecture. He served in both executive administrative and production capacities for large shipbuilding concerns on both the East and West Coasts and throughout the United States. He also sailed the Seven Seas for many years and was employed as a chemical engineer for the Stauffer Chemical Company in Los Angeles.

He holds a membership in the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers, Northeast Cost Institute of Engineers and Shipbuilders of England and the Military Engineers.

These cold, pertinent facts about Jim did not come from him for he is rather reluctant to speak of himself, so I looked in "Who's Who in the West," and this is just a small portion of the listing of Francisco, James Vincent, classed as chemical company executive.

Jim has lived all over the United States, Canada and many foreign ports, he has worked on the designing of many of the ships that went out during World War II and is presently retired.

Jim's wife, Robi, who he married in October of 1944, has been everything from the head of a governmental office, to correspondent, to her present occupation of real estate broker. She spent a term of office as president of the Lake Elsinore Realty

Board and has been active in all the affairs concerning Lake Elsinore. She has two real estate offices, one on Highway 74, Perris and the new one at her home.

These talented people, love their haven close to heaven, and like the dogs that Jim raises, are friendly as can be, but when it came to printing the story about Jim, he said "talk about Robi" and when we spoke to Robi she remarked "write about Jim, he's more interesting. All this from a couple married twenty years this October.

So—we took the middle of the road and told of their eleven-room, 2½-bath house and told a little about Jim and a little about Robi. ■

How 'bout that? August is over!

Thirty - one days ago Louis Armstrong was making famous, once more, the song "Hello Dolly" and we should have been saying "Hello, August."

Although there isn't one day in August that the entire nation turns out to celebrate, quite a number of memorable happenings did take place in August.

In fact, it was on August 1, 1914 that World War I began. August 5th, the first Atlantic cable from the United States to England was laid in 1858 and on the 17th it was used.

Students in school have learned that 1807, Fulton's first steamboat churned in the water and many of us remember August 14, 1945, for that was V-J Day. Those who have reached the half-century mark in life, know that on August 15, 1914, the Panama Canal was opened.

Of course, the most memorable day of all during August was the 18th. That day is vitally important to all La Laguna readers, for that day in 1958, was the opening of the Mayhall Print Shop of Elsinore and without the Mayhall Print Shop where would the Revue be?

It was on August 21, 1959 that Hawaiian statehood became a reality and on August 23, 1818 the first Atlantic steamer was launched.

And for all early shoppers, as of September 1, there are only 116 days until Christmas. ■

Indian Hills — grand opening ceremonies

Saturday and Sunday, August 29 and 30, were the two days set aside for the Grand Opening Ceremonies for Indian Hills Estates off West Fourth Street, Perris.

These houses are being built by Tatum Construction Corporation of Victorville and Big Sky Land Development Co. is handling the ground improvements.

The homes are one-story, three and four bedroom dwellings and they are priced from $16,650. with financing available through VA and FHA. They are of stucco frame construction with reinforced concrete slab floors and rock roofs. Special features of the homes include forced air heating, evaporative coolers and built-in ovens and ranges. Garages, sliding glass doors and formica counter tops.

The streets, such as Cherokee, Geronimo and Navajo, were named because many signs of former Indian life were discovered on the property.

City and civic officials and newspapermen were invited to a press conference on August 25 and were given a first hand tour of the project.

In attendance were Clyde Tatum, president of the Tatum Construction Co. and his son Bob, sales-manager Warren Robbins, Mayor Robert Warren and councilmen Bert Broesamle and Ben Minnich, Lorenz Victor, Louis Boettcher, Robert Walker, Charles Motte, Virgil Ashley, John Coudures, Mary Flake, Bill McKenna of the Daily Enterprise, Roger Mayhall, La Laguna Revue and Marion Ashley.

At present there are twenty-eight homes built or being completed but intentions of the Tatum firm are to go ahead with the home building program by building approximately 100 homes annually until the Indian Hills tract is fully developed.

During the opening refreshments were served and visitors toured the completed model home which is furnished by House of Style and appliances by Valley Appliances. ■

Spradlins are proud parents

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spradlin, former Perris residents, are the proud parents of a baby girl, Tammy Lynn, born to them on August 4. Little Tammy weighed in at 6 pounds and 11 ounces, and in her stocking feet stood 19 inches. Quite a little lady.

Mrs. Spradlin is the former Shannon Pettit of Perris. Tammy's maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pettit of Perris and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Spradlin of Homeland. ■

That kid is at it again!

When we speak of "that kid" we mean none other than Elsinore's Fred Ashbridge, who resides at what is once more known as "Blue Waters Ranch." (When Lake Elsinore was dry the name of the ranch was changed to "Dusty Water's Ranch" and this year as the water cascaded down the channel into Lake Elsinore the sign was once more changed to its original form.)

We spoke to Fred's wife, Rosanna, today, August 20, on the telephone and she informed us that Fred was relaxing, after all it is his birthday and he just completed a jaunt on skis on the lake.

In fact, the jaunt was approximately 75 miles, which Fred traveled in two hours and three minutes, but so what? Fred does things like this all of the time—why last year he hopped aboard his trusty skis and skied from Wilmington around Catalina, which is about 63 miles. And the year before he skied around Catalina Island from the mainland in extremely rough and choppy water.

Thursday's trip was eleven times around Lake Elsinore, towed by Fred's boat the "Lake Queen" piloted by Price Sloan. Observers from the boat were Price's wife Sarah and their daughter, Connie.

As they went past the Ashbridge property, groups of people standing on the shore waved to Fred as he glided by and the residents and guests at Clark's Beach gave him a "horn salute."

After the trip, the drying off, and the congratulations given over the success of his trip, a number of friends joined the Ashbridges in a luncheon birthday party served at the Ashbridge ranch.

Heavens, before I forget. Happy Birthday, Fred — on your 81st birthday.

Oh, you kid. ■

By GAREY CARR

It is our guess that Pierre Salinger will return to Virginia shortly after the first of year to begin work on his book entitled "My Four Months as a Senator." He will probably dedicate the book to Governor Pat Brown.

A Georgia restaurant closed last month and 75 employees lost their jobs all because the proprietor refused to serve two persons objectionable to him but whom the government in Washington declared he would have to serve in order to stay in business. Forty-four of those employees were Negroes.

Meanwhile demonstrations continue in New York, New Jersey and elsewhere with no action by the Federal government despite the fact that hundreds of persons are injured and property damage mounts into the millions of dollars.

And it wasn't too long ago that Federal troops were called out to assist in the enrollment of one person, objectionable to the state of Mississippi, in a state college.

"What do you make of it, Watson?"

There was a time, not too long ago, when a person could save his money and when he had enough to pay the first month's rent on a store room, and the cost of sign, he was in business. He didn't have to deposit a sum of money with the state to insure the collection of a sales tax, in fact not only was there no sales tax or income tax, but he didn't have to pay a business tax to the city. Furthermore he could hire whom he pleased and decide the amount of wages he would pay and he could be choosy about his customers as well. It was his business and his money and no one was compelled to work for him if they didn't like the conditions and there was no one to tell him whom he could or could not serve.

Small wonder some of us who experienced those times like to refer to them as "the good old days" even though there was a little more work connected with saddling the pony or hitching the horse to the buggy or wagon as compared with stepping on the self-starter today. We like to think of that period as "the American Way of Life" which was never the same after the advent of Franklin Delano Roosevelt and Earl Warren.

Well, that's all for today. I don't want to be late for the demonstration! ■

Married in church rites

The First Methodist Church of Elsinore was the setting for the marriage of Sonya Kathleen Holtan and Frank Hartmut Matthies Saturday evening, August 8.

Rev. Dan Neuburn of the First Methodist Church of Murrieta performed the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frieda Holtan and was given in marriage by her uncle, James D. Basiger. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Matthies of San Gabriel.

For her wedding, the bride chose a Queen Elizabeth style floor length gown of delustered satin with long pointed sleeves and a train. Her elbow length veil was of silk illusion and was held in place with a coronet of pearls. White orchids and pink rosebuds adorned the top of a white Bible given the bride by the bridegroom.

Gerry Narky was the bride's honor attendant, and she was gowned in a pink brocaded taffeta, floor length.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of a similar fashion. Karen Van House wore yellow; Lark Smith, cousin of the bride, orchid and Mary Kay Basiger, also a cousin was gowned in light blue. The attendants wore small headpieces with tiny veils to match the color of their costumes and they carried white carnations.

William V. Matthies, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Rick Harper and Bill Williams of San Gabriel and James F. Basiger, cousin of the bride. Lou Ellen Taylor of Phoenix was flowergirl.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stevens of San Gabriel were organist and soloist respectively with the father of the bridegroom playing an accompaniment on the violin.

The reception for the couple was held in the garden of the James Basiger home. Suzanne Hayes circulated the guest book. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Glenn Smith and Sharon Basiger, aunt and cousin of the bride and Mrs. Joe R. Harrison.

Sonya graduated from Elsinore Union High School in 1963 and attended San Diego State College.

The bridegroom graduated from San Gabriel High School and from Pasadena Junior College. He is presently employed by the United States Forestry in Cleveland National Forest.

REED-RANDOLPH WEDDING VOWS

Roberta Kay, the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. "Jack" Randolph of Perris exchanged vows of matrimony with Douglas Earl Reed on Saturday, August 8, at 11 a.m. rites performed by the Rev. James Munnely.

St. James Catholic Church of Perris was the setting for the wedding, which was attended by more than 250 friends and relatives.

The bride wore a floor length gown of ivory peau de soie with a chapel train. The dress was fashioned with a scoop neckline, three - quarter length sleeves and a bell skirt. Appliques of ivory Chantilly lace accented the neckline and sleeves. Her headpiece was an ivory rose with a double tiered silk illusion veil.

The white prayerbook she carried was the same one her grandmother had carried at her wedding fifty years ago.

Maid of honor was Yvonne Motte of Los Angeles. Carol Northrup, Susan Randolph, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Irvin Greenberg of Los Angeles served as bridesmaids.

Their identically styled gowns were of rose crepe, short length sheaths with Sabrina necklines and

Wedding bells for Lloyd Mills, Jessica Finnell

The Temple Baptist Church was the setting for the wedding ceremony that joined Jessica Grace Finnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Finnell, and Lloyd Gilbert Mills, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Mills, in marriage on July 25.

Solemnizing the double-ring ceremony was Rev. John L. Lyle in the presence of 250 guests and relatives.

Jessica chose for her wedding costume, a full length gown of peau de soie trimmed with reembroidered Chantilly lace. The long sleeved bodice had a scalloped neckline and was caught by a bow at the waist front. Her "A" shaped skirt had a chapel train. A pearl crown held her elbow length tulle veil and she carried a bouquet of white rosebuds centered with a white orchid.

Cheryl Lamberson of Sunnymead was her honor attendant. Jeanie Mills, sister to the groom, Michele Ann Finnell, the bride's sister and Charlene Howe of Elsinore were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore street length dresses, with bell-shaped skirts and basque bodices. The gowns were of taffeta and each was a different shade of green. Each girl carried a single white rose.

Serving the groom as best man was his cousin Arthur W. Galley of Rialto. Ushers were Norman Hanmer, John Finnell, Hilbrand Goedhard and Kenneth Galley.

Soloist for the occasion was the bridegroom's aunt,

Mrs. John San Miguel of San Clemente. She was accompanied by Mrs. John Galley of Rialto, another aunt of the groom's. The selection sung was composed by the mother of the bridegroom and was entitled "Come Walk with Me."

Acolytes were Karen Galley of Rialto, cousin of the groom and his brother Johnathan Mills. Ringbearer was Andrew Johnson and flowergirls were Deborah Gail Finnell of Indio and Jody Elmer.

A reception followed the ceremony at the church social hall, after which the couple went to Catalina for their honeymoon.

Jessica is a graduate of Elsinore Union High School and the Academy of Beauty in Riverside. She is presently employed by the Doll House Coiffures as a beauty operator.

The bridegroom attended Perris schools and Riverside City College. A graduate of the American Barber College, he is employed as a barber in Orange.

The couple are making their home at 4213 El Dorado Street in Riverside. ■

Take a back seat to the "Confused Chamber"

By DOLORES MAYHALL

"Let's get on with the meeting, gentlemen, as the hour grows late." These words were spoken on three various occasions during the Lake Elsinore Valley Chamber of Commerce directors' meeting held on August 17, by President Roger Mayhall. And the hour was late.

To begin. At 7:30, the hour set for the meeting to commence, arrived, but there were not enough chamber directors in attendance to constitute a quorum. So the directors held a round table discussion for about fifteen minutes. Finally more directors appeared on the scene, then there was more discussion among the directors and at a flat five of eight, the president rapped the gavel and the meeting finally was opened with the salute to the Flag.

Reading of the minutes

First, Florence Richards, secretary to the chamber, read the minutes of the August 5 special meeting. It was at this meeting that Director Jerry Gilbertson turned in his resignation and was replaced on the board by his father, Harlan C. Gilbertson.

Reading of the minutes . . . again

The minutes of the August 5, general meeting were read, and this was the meeting where an open discussion concerning the location of the new high school took place, and according to those who took part this was a "dandy" meeting, even to the extent of a possible fist-cuff demonstration between one of the board members and a visitor.

This, I understand, was soon settled, by the president rapping the gavel.

During this meeting, Jerry Gilbertson, public relations man for the Watkins Development Company, offered the board a proposal to use the State Marina facilities on the Friday evening before Labor Day for a chamber promotion scheme. The other three-day festivities would be taken care of by the Watkins outfit.

Reading of the minutes . . . again and again

Next came the reading of the August 12, special meeting. In general, when Jerry Stanley heard of the Watkins offer to use the State Park Marina on Friday night, he offered the Elsinore West Marina for the entire Labor Day weekend. The board now was faced with two good offers to consider, but had to decline both, on the grounds of lack of time, ability, and finances. The board sent a letter of thanks to both gentlemen for their offers and generosity, but decided to act as onlookers for the gala events.

The board then made arrangements with Cy Perkins, owner-operator of Skylark Field to put on a parachute jump meet for that weekend, at a cost to the chamber of $200.

This motion passed.

Treasurer's report

After the reading of the minutes of the past three meetings, the treasurer's report was read and it was discovered that the chamber has approximately $3,000 in the treasury. (Not bad for a chamber that had assessed about eighteen members $100 each in order to meet rent and clerical expenses just a few years ago.)

Membership

The chamber to date is only 819 members short of the goal set by the membership committee of 1000 new chamber members. Fred Mohacsy and John Packman, of the membership committeemen, remarked that the membership has increased 100 per cent since the drive began. It was explained to the audience and board members that each member, of which there are now 181 paid and 32 pledged, is being asked to bring in three new members each, but to date only six members have achieved this goal.

Join the chamber!

It was at this point that the sum of $7.50 for postage stamps was requested so that the new membership committee could mail three application forms to each member with a letter asking them to get their quota filled.

Vern Mason rebelled. He did not approve the expenditure. The motion failed, only to be remade by director Clint Joseph, that $25 be made available to the committee. It was seconded and passed, 100 per cent. (Vern was lighting a cigarette.)

Queen report

Queen LoVae Pray entered the Twin Counties Press Association Beauty Contest. This young lady has done much for Elsinore in the way of promoting. She has appeared on television, holds the title of Miss Elsinore, was a princess in Queen Scheherazade's Court, is Queen of the Marinas at Lake Elsinore and holds the title of Miss Photogenic. She also took part in the DAV Pageant of August 21 at El Monte.

Highway report

The highway problem between Corona and Alberhill was brought out by Larry Cartier, and the board agreed to send him and Vern Mason to Sacramento to discuss the problem with Gordon Cologne and the Public Works Board and that photos of weekend traffic would be taken along to show the officials the dire need of the freeway link.

Clean-up

Clint Joseph, chairman of the cleanup campaign and his committee discussed the possibility of a parade to be held as the finale to the month-long clean-up campaign. One board member remarked that it had better be a "kick-off" parade for the results are a bit slow on the cleaning up.

Note was made of the fact that not one merchant has encouraged the campaign project by a sale of clean-up supplies or even a broom special.

Cans for the corners of the business district were donated for use by the Sherman Disposal Company, of Riverside.

Wyn Ward, who by the way is not in any way connected to the town, heard of the campaign and the need for trash cans and he contributed 25 for our use. Seems a shame we must have outside help on such a project.

The City Fathers came through beautifully though. They gave permission for the parade; have the disposal trucks making a Wednesday pickup of trimmings and any other day if necessary and have Duane Roderick really working on the safety element.

Poor attendance

It was about now that President M. had a count-down on how many meetings each director had attended out of a possible seven meetings held this year. The "Roberts Rules" that the chamber is supposed to abide by read something like this: "Any member who misses three consecutive meetings without a valid excuse can be replaced . . ."

Florence Richards read the attendance record of the directors. Robert Bennett, one; Fred Cope, past president, 2; George Vandenberg (new board member) one; Milton Pappini, 3; Ed Tomlin, 3; Dick Connor, 5; Fred Mohacsy, 4; John Packman, 4; Clint Joseph, 6; Clyde Longe, 2; Larry Cartier, 4; Art Gedinman, vice president, 6; Ted Nelson, 0; Roger Mayhall, president, 7; Vern Mason, treasurer, 7; Bob McGill, 3; Cy Perkins, 5; Jay Guler, city manager, 1; Dr. Nickerson, 4; Stormy Keats, 4; Nori Nakai, 4; and C. H. Boomer Lee, 5.

It was apparent that Bennett and Nelson were due to get the axe; but then the names of Longe and Nakai, who were both seated in the audience, came up, and John Packman asked them for some explanation as to their attendance. (This, I could not understand, for it seemed to me one board member does not question another, that is the job of President M., and why he sat still for it, I do not know.)

Mr. Longe, after a few minutes of the board members hasseling, stood up and tendered his resignation, which — thank goodness—was immediately rejected by the board.

Then Mr. P., put Nori Nakai on the block and asked him for some explanation as to his attendance. If Mr. P. were an avid reader of the weekly newspaper or the Revue, he would have realized that Nori was in charge of the Merchants' Little League team and being in two places at once is rather hard to do. And since it was the Merchants' Braves team, and there were sponsors of the boys on the board, questioning Nori seemed out of line, plus the man who took apparent charge of the questioning.

It ended after about twenty minutes with Ted and Bob being replaced.

Then the fun started. Three board members submitted names of who they thought would be good board members. Eight names were tossed at President M. and the talk of voting for two began.

Art Gediman, vice president moved that the names be placed on a ballot, and the ballots mailed to the directors. The two receiving the highest number of votes being new members on the board. A show of hands voted this motion down and the board agreed, in part to have the voting then and there.

The eight names submitted were T. L. Cionni, Ed Hobart, Ergah Roth, James McGill, Gordon Harrison, Jerry Stanley, Jerry Harmatz and Dr. Harry Breuer. Slips of paper were passed to directors and on the first vote T. L. Cionni cleaned house with eight votes and a tie resulted between Harrison and Stanley. On the next voting Harrison won.

Then a question was asked. "Is Gordon Harrison a paid chamber member?" Mr. P. stated he was. Vern Mason, treasurer, said he was not. (Who should know better than the man who handles the money?) Anyhow, as it turned out, Gordon was a pledged member, and wrote his check for dues the following day.

Close call, I would say. It seems to me a good policy for the chamber board would be to check the membership before putting a man's name up for director.

Real Estate Board

A letter from the Board of Realtors was read asking if they could rent the building that houses the chamber part time for the Multiple Listing Service.

This was passed and will work fine as Mrs. Richards is also secretary of that board.

Mimeo machine

The board okayed the purchase of a new mimeograph machine for chamber use.

Lake pattern

James Cook and George Fawcett, representatives of the Elsinore Boat and Ski Club requested chamber backing in a proposal to change the traffic pattern of Lake Elsinore. They showed the present pattern on a drawing and the plan for a new lake pattern.

This new proposed pattern would work on the same principle as "Rule of the Road" driving and from all appearances seems to be a workable plan. The chamber voted to back the boat club when they present this proposal to state officials.

Adjournment

Just as "the hour grows late" Mayhall asked if there was any further business, Larry Cartier came up with the finest idea heard all evening, "I move we adjourn."

How about that? Between the city council meetings, and the chamber meetings, one can really enjoy their town by attending either. You can't fight 'em so join 'em. ■

THIRTY-FIRST SUMMER SESSION

The thirty-first annual summer session at Elsinore Naval and Military School was concluded on August 15, 1964, announced President, Colonel G. R. Conklin. The Junior School which included grades 1-6 had an enrollment of 41, and the Senior School, grades 7-12, included 78 junior and senior high school students, making a total summer session registration of 129.

Among the elective subjects was photography which was under the instruction of Mr. John Stover. The students were trained to take their own pictures and then develop them in the new darkroom of the science laboratory building.

Concluding the conference with Colonel Conklin, he announced the following physical improvements for the academic year, 1964-65: New administrative offices and fire-proof vault for all permanent school records which will make it possible to have two additional classrooms; new auditorium adjacent to the gym which will be used for multi-purposes—Chapel services, school assemblies, dramatics and music. New shower room and lockers for the senior high school students in the gym. ■

John, along with his board, accomplished more than these few mentioned items. They showed a good audience at the 7 a.m. meetings, fine speakers on vital issues, and many other deeds that passed by the press.

The next regular meeting of the chamber will be held at the Perris Valley Inn at 7 a.m. on September 3, and all members are asked to attend and greet the new board.

Cornerstone laid at new school

The cornerstone of the new Machado Street Elementary School was laid on Saturday, August 25, with the Elsinore Masonic Lodge No. 289 participating in the ceremonies.

Elmer W. Heald, the grand master of the California State Lodge for the State of California officiated in the laying of the stone.

Richard L. Staley, master of the Elsinore lodge and Hubert J. Raymond, inspector of the 632nd Masonic district also participated.

This was an extremely great day for Elsinore for this school has long been needed and the fight to get money to erect same was a hard one, with many hours spent by volunteers to see the voters to get them to vote yes on school bonds.

Maybe, next year at this time, we can have a cornerstone laying on the new high school the area so desperately needs.

Murrieta officer ends college course

Lieutenant Colonel B. Wylie Tarwater was awarded his diploma at graduation ceremonies for the current class at the Industrial College of the Armed Forces at Fort Lesley J. McNair.

The colonel is a graduate of Elsinore Union High School and attended the University of Southern California where he received a bachelor's degree in international relations, and Stanford University, where he earned a master's degree.

Wylie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Urban K. Tarwater of Murrieta and was one of 176 senior military officers and key government officials completing the ten month course of education in the management of logistics resources for national security.

The owners of this Holiday Ranch are Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Grover, who moved to this part of the country from Long Beach, where Mr. Grover was a carpenter.

They purchased 40 acres and named it Holiday Ranch in 1952. At that time the nearest neighbor was over one mile away.

The Grover family carved out the existing dirt road and built their home.

In the gift shop, on display, are a collection of old and interesting items, such as an apple peeler, a cherry pitter, a 100-year old coffee grinder and a beautiful paisley shawl, all in excellent condition, which belonged to Mrs. Grover's great-grandmother. This shop also houses a large variety of modern gifts.

In the second building on the property he did his jewelry work, moving on into the plastic field. Mrs. Grover poured and set the stones and Mr. Grover finished them into earrings, necklaces and bolo ties. members of the U. S. Naval School Precision Drill Team from San Diego, who performed their feats of skill with amazing agility; Liberty Act trained Palominos; floats bearing the names of well-known organizations and ranches and walking groups.

The queen's float with Queen Joyce Pressley and her two attendants, Jean Pena and the queen's sister, Patty Pressley, was one of the parade highlights.

All of the town's business houses were going full-blast — the Anza Market had customers lined up for service; Rudy's Cafe and Windy's Cafe were both doing a fine business.

Betty and Windy Koch, owners and operators of the cafe, are also putting the finishing touches on a 26-trailer unit which bears the name "Windy's Bonanza," and will be for permanent as well as visitors of the trailer world. Another step forward for Anza.

After the parade and the beef barbecue the old-fashioned gymkhana held on Terwilliger Road began, and there is nothing one can adequately write about a gymkhana, this is one of the items that is attended by people from Missouri, "You gotta see for yourself."

In the evening at the Anza Community Hall, everyone had on their best bib and tucker and the dancing began to the music of Fred Hurst and his band.

Sunday special services were held at the Anza and Terwilliger churches and Cahuilla Catholic Church, then sight-seeing on your own.

This is where many people took time to visit the graves of Ramona and Alessandro, whose love story is portrayed each spring in Hemet's Ramona Bowl. These lovers are buried in the hillside cemetery near Anza.

All in all the Anza celebration is one to long remember, and we missed many of the Revue readers, but you don't know what you missed by not attending and joining these fine people in their annual celebration.

Editor's Note: The book we referred to, "Three Paths Along a River" by Tom Hudson, is for sale at the Mayhall Print Shop, 138 N. Main Street in Elsinore. Cost of this fine book is just $6.00 and is mailed prepaid to all who request. ■

National Fuel Boat Drag Championship Races

Blynn Martin, president of Vida Enterprises (Ski Land), announced that the National Fuel Boat Drag Championship races will be held on Saturday and Sunday, September 19 and 20 and he expects it to be the biggest event of the year in this field.

The event will begin at 7 a.m. both days and will end at 5:30 on Sunday evening and contestants will come from New York, Canada and other places in the states. The boats will drag for one quarter of a mile and the drivers expect to attain speeds of 170 miles per hour or better.

Drag racing will be the main event, but on Saturday evening the City of Perris is sponsoring a pit barbecue dinner to be held at San Jacinto Avenue, between D and E streets (across from City Hall) from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. After the barbecue a street dance with a name band will begin and on display will be drag boats and various other exhibits.

Overnight camping will be made available at Ski

Land, which is located east of Perris on Fourth Street.

In conjunction with the drag racing the officials are out queen scouting. The queen will be a young lady between the ages of 18 and 21 and to be eligible she must be a resident of the Valley areas. Blanks for the contest are in all local chamber offices and are available through the Lions Club and the Elks.

The queen as her prizes will receive an all-expense paid trip for herself and a companion to Las Vegas, the queen's gown and crown. Out-of-town judges will make the queen selection. The official crowning will take place at Perris Valley Inn by the pool on September 18.

Entries for the queen must be in by September 15, and the winner will carry the title of Miss Ski Land of Perris Valley. ■

Attention readers . . .

Many readers have asked us why we do not print poetry in La Laguna Revue and have a strong desire that we do so.

After much discussion, we have decided that any reader who has a poem he or she has written and they submit it to us, we will devote one full column a month to "poetry."

A poll was taken at the office, and each one here had to admit that they know nothing at all about poetry, except that "moon rhymes with June." So if you have a poem and you wish to let the world of Laguna Revue readers view your talent, send it to us and we will publish same.

By the way, all of you professional poets, we are not in a financial position to pay for your talents, much as we would like to. ■

Still time to file

The Lake Elsinore Recreation and Park District board will have three vacancies as of January 1, 1965, when the terms of three directors expire.

Lyle Hodges has stated his intentions to run again, but Iva Keegan and Frank de Pasquale have said they will not file for reelection.

Candidates may file for election until the 4th of September. Nomination papers may be secured at the Park Board office located at the Chamber of Commerce building at 154 North Main Street in Elsinore.

The election will take place on November 3 with the state-wide election.

Registration for the election will close on September 10. ■

Man, did I get burned up over the last issue of La Laguna Revue!

It all started when I received my August copy of La Laguna Revue in the mail.

I looked at the cover and decided that this was pretty good reading again this month. I read all about the annexation, DePalma's, Sun City's Second Birthday, Top Camper and Leo Young.

Then I looked at all of the pictures of the baseball teams, noticed that the Lions Club picture was put in wrong and got a kick out of the Gay Nineties party.

Next I read the ads—which cost me a little money. I spent 5c on a stamp for the booklet Southern California Edison sends out on the new housing developments in this area; bought two tickets to the Holiday Luau for $10.00; rocks from John Young to pretty up the yard and a gift subscription to Laguna Revue for $3.50 to be sent to my friend in Phoenix.

Oh, yes, you wonder why I was burned up over the last issue.

When I received it, I turned to page one, saw photos of the Elsinore West Marina, drove to it and laid on shore reading my magazine — that's right — sun-burned-up.

Renew my subscription. Doc says I'll be in the hospital the next three months.
